Nature's first green is gold
Her hardest hve to hold Her early leaf is a flower,
But only so an hour
Then leaf subsides to leaf
So Eden sank to grief
So dawn goes down today
Nothing gold can stay

CLASS PROPHECY — 1994

Senior Class Officers:
top to bottom: Betsey Barry, Treasurer,
Linda Buckley, Vice President, Rebecca Kerr, Secretary, Christina Poletto, President, Mr. Carneiro, Advisor

Greetings Mr. Carniero and family. It's 2013 and we're writing to inform you of some of the whereabouts of those from the class of 1994. We have an extravagant amount of successful stories. Eddie Gaines, for instance, is the owner of 'Wrinkle Away,' a large corporation that irons old people and alters the age they look and feel. The business is making millions, as is Lisa Grecho, who is one of Hollywood's greatest actresses. She is currently making a movie with the well known senior actor Tom Cruise. Craig McCarthy is counting his millions too. He has recently received an approved nomination into the hall of fame as well as a summons. Mark Grazado has been pretty busy. He's a drummer for a rich band which has been receiving rave reviews. Nancy Parsons, who is a drummer as well, is the full-time drumming instructor to some guy named Boris.

Jessica Johnston has become a professional soccer player as well as a wife and a mother to five children. When she's not kicking a soccer ball around she takes her kids to Jenna Eskedahl's zoo. Joy Mueller was recently spotted at the zoo also. It is just one of the many stops on her world dancing tour. Brian Rousseau has been on tour too, as the Phantom in the remake of Andrew Lloyd Webber's

'Phantom of the Opera.'

J.P. Tremblay, a.k.a. the President of the United States, was recently caught running naked through the halls of the White House. He is now in good hands, and he is currently being treated by the Beverly Hills psychiatrist Mike Finase. Another of his patients, Chris Vrysen, believes he's dead. Go figure!

Tired of being innocent girls in high school, Leah McLean and Linda Buckley are presently Go-Go dancers in a small casino in Las Vegas. Speaking of show business, Sean Greene has just recently transferred from the Mighty Mighty Bosstones over to Primus, replacing Herb, the drummer. His good friend, Jeff Candela, just made his first million off his debut guitar album titled 'In Trent's Footsteps' — a dedication album to NIN's Trent Resner. The album has been selling so well riots have broken out across the country. Fans like Greg Desjardins and Rachel Johnson had to be forcefully controlled by law enforcement officers Eric Dearden and Jason Thorton. On the side, Jason still bags at Star Market during the holidays.

Joanna Majewski can easily be found keeping the United States in line from her Secretary of State position. In her spare time, she choreographs all of Christina Poletto's music videos. Speaking of power hungry people, Brian Turnbull is trying to rule the world. Too bad for him when his dreams were suppressed by Dennis Pechavar, who became the emperor of the galaxy.

Yesterday, the crazy daredevil stunt-artist Chris Deckard bungee jumped off of the world's highest bridge, which is built in Kristen Hall's backyard. Lucky for Chris though, that doctors Joe Salamone and Michelle Hunter were there to prevent him from almost certain death. Unlucky Diana Deschamps, who just parachuted off the Eiffel Tower is now in prison somewhere in France. Here whereabouts is currently unknown, but Greg Lee — host of the investigative show — "Where in the World is Diana Deschamps???"

Stephanie Luke and Kristen Johnston can be found in Florida working as marine biologists at Sea World. When she's not training dolphins, Stephanie can be found selling beads of Lucian Benes, the new owner of the Ford Corporation. Just down the street, entrepreneur's Andy Mollica and Ankur Patel can be seen waiting on their faithful customers Jayme Morris and Todd Alsworth at their 349th Taco Bell establishment. Speaking of food, the annual Kraft Macaroni and Cheese bake off recently took place at Eerie, Indiana. The winning test-tasters, Whitney Hunsaker and Jessica

Corbett, used their winnings to catch Emily Drowne on board her ship the 'Concordia 65.'

The gala opening of 'DAHMERS' restaurant recently occurred less than two weeks ago. Manager and head cook, Jeff Wirtz handled opening night fairly well, except of course for the choking accident concerning Dave Rousseau. Rousseau, who left the Wrentham area for the first time since high school to attend the opening was quickly attended to by fellow customer Ali White, head pediatrician in Plainville Pediatrics. Speed demon Melissa Emmott was just captured by state trooper Chrissy Zandell for disorderly conduct to police officers. She's appeared on America's Most Wanted four times. Out at the Dunkin' Donuts in Franklin Amy Conroy is a regular there. She can't seem to stop talking about the Franklin game. Mafia lords Raj Pandey and Anthony Vito are out of trouble for the moment. They spend their time eating in exotic restaurants, dating beautiful women like Nicole Johnson and Amy Bergstrom, and growing out their sideburns.

Yesterday, we got word that Michelle Francis ran into Kim Bristol on her Australian property. Michelle, a wildlife biologist received the trip as a sweepstakes giveaway from Jackie Eshacks travel agency. Aaron May and Amiee McCoullough just became neighbors to Eric Paul. All are building dream homes, Aaron and Amiee a beautiful Victorian custom designed for Melissa Buckley on Prince Edwards Island, and Eric Paul, a mansion he's building with all his friends. Jill Delahanty is living as Cleopatra did, on the Nile surrounded by male slaves. When her make-up needs retouching, Kristin Barry is called in from Beverly Hills to help.

Erin Hurney, the happiest owner of Vermont's largest pumpkin farm recently sent word of all the class mate sightings since graduation. John Berman, who lives just down the road, can easily be spotted at the pumpkin farm toting around a saxophone and a few kids. Tina DeBriac, Nancy Copeland, Elizabeth Bautz, and Brad Rowe all took on the challenge and became teachers. Tina besides teaching third grade, is a part time actress, artist and poet and a full time mom. Her ability to do it all will never be understood. Liz, voted America's most devoted teacher for the last sixteen years in a row, works with underprivileged and special needs children. Brad is the head professor of philosophy at a small college in Greece. Nicole Lizotte, who attended the college, is now using her acquired knowledge digging and restoring a lost city near the college. Nancy Copeland replaced Mr. Lazzarra as King Philip's environmental science teacher, and we've heard great things about the class.

Award winning journalist for the New York Times, Heather Brown, currently has written a highly publicized article that was seen on the front of all world newspapers. It exclusively featured Olympic track gold medalist Eric LaBagh and World Cup soccer player Brian Gibson. Another sports story written by Brown involved shocking sports scandal. Boston Bruin forwards Brad MacDonald and Eric Devereaux recently went up against Mike Antonellis the forward for the Kings. Billionaire bookies, Mark Barney, Paul Bourne, and Kevin Bourne, who proclaimed this to be the game of the year lost billions of dollars by getting whole countries to bet on the outcome. Co-owners of the Bruins, Jeff Lukens and Mads Schmidt, refused to comment on their mysterious part in the gambling ring.

On the brighter side of things, we've recently learned that Elisa Hurder's five star hotel is doing quite successful. The hotel, which spans ten miles acquires everything possibly needed to survive. Just ask Amy Konowitz and Melissa Sordan who both know that it means to be living in the lap of luxury. Regular customer Betsey Barry and Laura Moretti are still running some Big Dog competition.

Every Thursday night, a crowd of old K.P. gals get together for Kareoke night at 'Droste's' a bar owned by Brian Droste. Evan Bogardus, head bartender, doesn't seem to mind serving Brian Payne and Shea Kiley although he admits their singing could use improvement.

Butch Vincent was accidentally hit by an automobile driven by Mike Gilbert. The accident occurred in a rural Alabama town where Mike practices medicine, but the injuries sustained by Butch required the attention of a higher medical expert — Alexis Sacramona. Needless to say, Butch is fine and recuperating well.

A major business transaction is about to take place any day now. President of Corporate Security, Joe Pennini, and I.B.M. president, Herman Iswanto, will join forces to form I.B.M. Corporate Security. Alison Pope was selected to manage all the accounts for this booming business.

Elaine Antonellis is still looking for the perfect man and was found trying to do this in Annie Kledzik's 'Chippendales' in Virginia, Annie is working under Jackie Michalwski who owns all the chains of 'Chippendales' in the U.S.A. Chad O'Brien is living in Hollywood filming "movies!"

We've heard he's seen Tyler Lindmark on the beach. On another beach in Seaside Heights, New Jersey, we found Stacey Bassett who was literally surfed into by Peter Stoddard.

Things at home are really going well too!! Jeff Cornell has his own restaurant, Big Beef's, in Plainville, and Mike Poletto is his head manager — they've served John Kettell who owns his own engineering company, and Michelle Teixeira who plays xylophone for the Boston Pops. Speaking of music Nick Pantazi is playing with his band in Boston clubs.

Jeremy Ellis was last seen touring with Jimmy Buffet while John Oles is strummin' his 6-string in Margaritaville. Also being a groupie, Vanessa Carrol has been following "The Dead." In her spare time, Vanessa can be found singing show tunes out of the back of a VW bus. Speaking of touring, Wendy Boone has been sailing around the world saving the whales and doing a good job. John Ward, Kevin Bowden, and Dan Hildreth all have a very successful band that is jumping from country to country with all sold out shows. We even have people who are serving our nation and our towns. Tammy Payne is flying F-16's in the air force and James Booth is a local firefighter.

Dan Neske came back from England and opened a ski resort with Steve Carew in Colorado. It's doing very well and some of K.P. alumni's like Jen Hedtler, Christel Boughner, and Elizabeth Powers and their families went on vacation there and gave the resort great reviews. Chris Follett's dream of drawing comic books for a living has come true. To date, he has become the world's best comic artist. Needless to say, he's a pretty happy guy. Coryn Toubeau, Carrie Roache, and Megan Kinnear are also very happy these days. Coryn is the proud mother of two rambunctious teenagers and the president of her own law company. Carrie is married with six kids. She lives in Disney World — a dream come true for her. Megan owns her own business out west. She owns a veterinary service, that cares for animals who are abused by the environment. Frequently, Ellen Roach, who diligently has worked for the E.P.A. since graduation, can be seen bringing these injured animals to Megan. Just a few days ago, Ellen rescued a ton of fish from Steve Willey, who was on the Bassmaster's tour. His punishment includes being confined to a log cabin hundreds of miles from civilization.

K. Melody Smith enjoys her life of solitude. Right now, she's sitting on her porch in Alaska watching the Aurora Borealis. Yet, hours before she viewed the universal premiere of "Blue Monday" a fantastic by hypnotic musical tragedy written, produced, narrated, and financially funded by Erika Sundberg. It stars Megan Bolinger, three time Emmy winner and mother of two charming twin children Misery and Company. Misery loves Company you know!!

In this month's edition of 'Business News' articles featuring Maureen Wagstaff, Christine LaCourse, and Jim Kress were featured. Christine LaCourse is now the highest paid architect in the world. Karen Constantine now has a wonderful home thanks to Christine. It has everything including a circus room. This is where Karen does her daily practice in preparation for her circus shows. Jim Kress just became the new owner of J.R.C. Nobody knows what the initials stand for, but the company is doing well. They manufacture miniature national flags that Jessica Shearer buys by the ton. She frequently uses these flags as a token of peace on her treks across the planet working as an interpreter of the United Nations. Kress, although a dedicated businessman, is still seen going on rampages with Kevin and working with the "boys." Maureen Wagstaff, who has resided in Virginia since her graduation from King Philip, has just established the 3091st "Nicole's" clothing and accessory store. Their diverse selection offers everyone the opportunity to find what they're looking for. Their 44th store, located in Mobile, Alabama, was visited by artists Jenine Lennihan and Julie Kliemola. Their dire need for paint supplies was questioned where to Jenine is going to paint what's left of the world a different color, and Julie is going to draw pictures for her family.

Quite a few graduate from the class of '94 have established families. Kara Berteletti found career success in the field of physical therapy, as well as a wonderful marriage to Hugh Millen. Joe Flynn keeps himself as well as his family happy working at a job he always wanted to do. He keeps busy with a lot of things from serving in the Coast Guard to collecting wood for sculptures. Rennee Zollo has a family too. She is raising five children with her husband, and managing a great job of growing Christmas trees. They reside in the eastern tip of Maine. Mary Megna is happily married to her sweetheart Geoff with two children and a beautiful home. The house is restored mansion with over 28 rooms designed for various functions. One room is so large, it can hold well over 300,000 people. Last year, it was the host site of the world's largest concert tour starring Depeche Mode. Wendy Nicodemus, a well known photographer for National Geographic and mistress to DM's lead vocalist, Dave Gahar, was seen lurking around backstage with her long time friend Jess Brewer. Jessica Brewer is the world leader of the Depeche Mode following. John Zahner was seen at the concert also. After many successful attempts to trying to start a mosh pit with Mike Peavey and Jarod Ward, John found a corner and tried to figure out where he screwed up in life. Needless to say, he was unsuccessful at that too.

A brand new coffee shop just reopened in the heart of New York City. The turnout was great as it included such famous customers as Allison Beebe, Nicole Ficci, and Anthony Garcia. They all starred in a movie together over six years ago. It was about a comedian who dresses up as a genie (Garcia) in order to become acquainted with an environmentalist (Ficci) and her friend (Beebe). The movie wasn't so hot, but recognition came for the actors as well as the director Courtney Johnson and producer Ed Salveson.

Next door to the coffee shop is "Kev's." A men's clothing store owned by Kevin Herlin. Eugene Craig and Russell Georgio can be found competing for customers at "Kev's" as they work on commission only. Speaking of Kevin Herlin, Pee Wee Herman made a comeback into the social scene of America by appearing at the house of Boston Pops' conductor, Ben Montgomery, for a surprise party being held for Sean Leary. Leary, who turned 38 at his birthday party, was greeted by over 200 friends and relatives. Some that made special appearances included race car driver Charlie Pappas; Olympic athlete, Jami Funk; philosopher Matthew Johnson, and computer genius Jeremy Kelly. Coincidentally, Fabio wanna be Nathaniel Nash was married for the seventh time on the same day as Leary's party. The wedding ceremony was privately held on the estate of Joseph Linney, the owner of the lushest green grass in America. Linney and Melissa Kerr served as witnesses to the wedding, while the guests looked from above, as they were not allowed to disrupt Joe's precious lawn, from hot air balloons, spectators including Lisa Coffey and Mike Wilbanks watched as Nate married the seventh women of his dreams.

In today's newspaper, an article was spotted concerning Vanessa Hennessey and Chris Breitenbach. It turns out that a warning was issued for miscellaneous parking violations at a local shopping mall. Policewoman Vickie Lippolis found the driver, Vanessa, guilty of parking on the curb, parking on Chris, parking too close to one car, too far away from another, and leaving the engine on while shopping. She was sent to retake Driver's Education with Mr. Towle as punishment for her crimes. It has been said that while Vanessa was being driven back home from shopping, she spotted Tom Collins, Seth Healy, Todd Holbrook, and Jacqui Dacko at an intersection. It seems the four were going for a record breaker in Chinese fire drills, but they stopped once they realized that they could be drinking coffee instead. They quickly resumed driving and were later discovered at Mike's Truck Stop (owned by Mike O'Brien), playing pinball and drinking out of a bottomless cup.

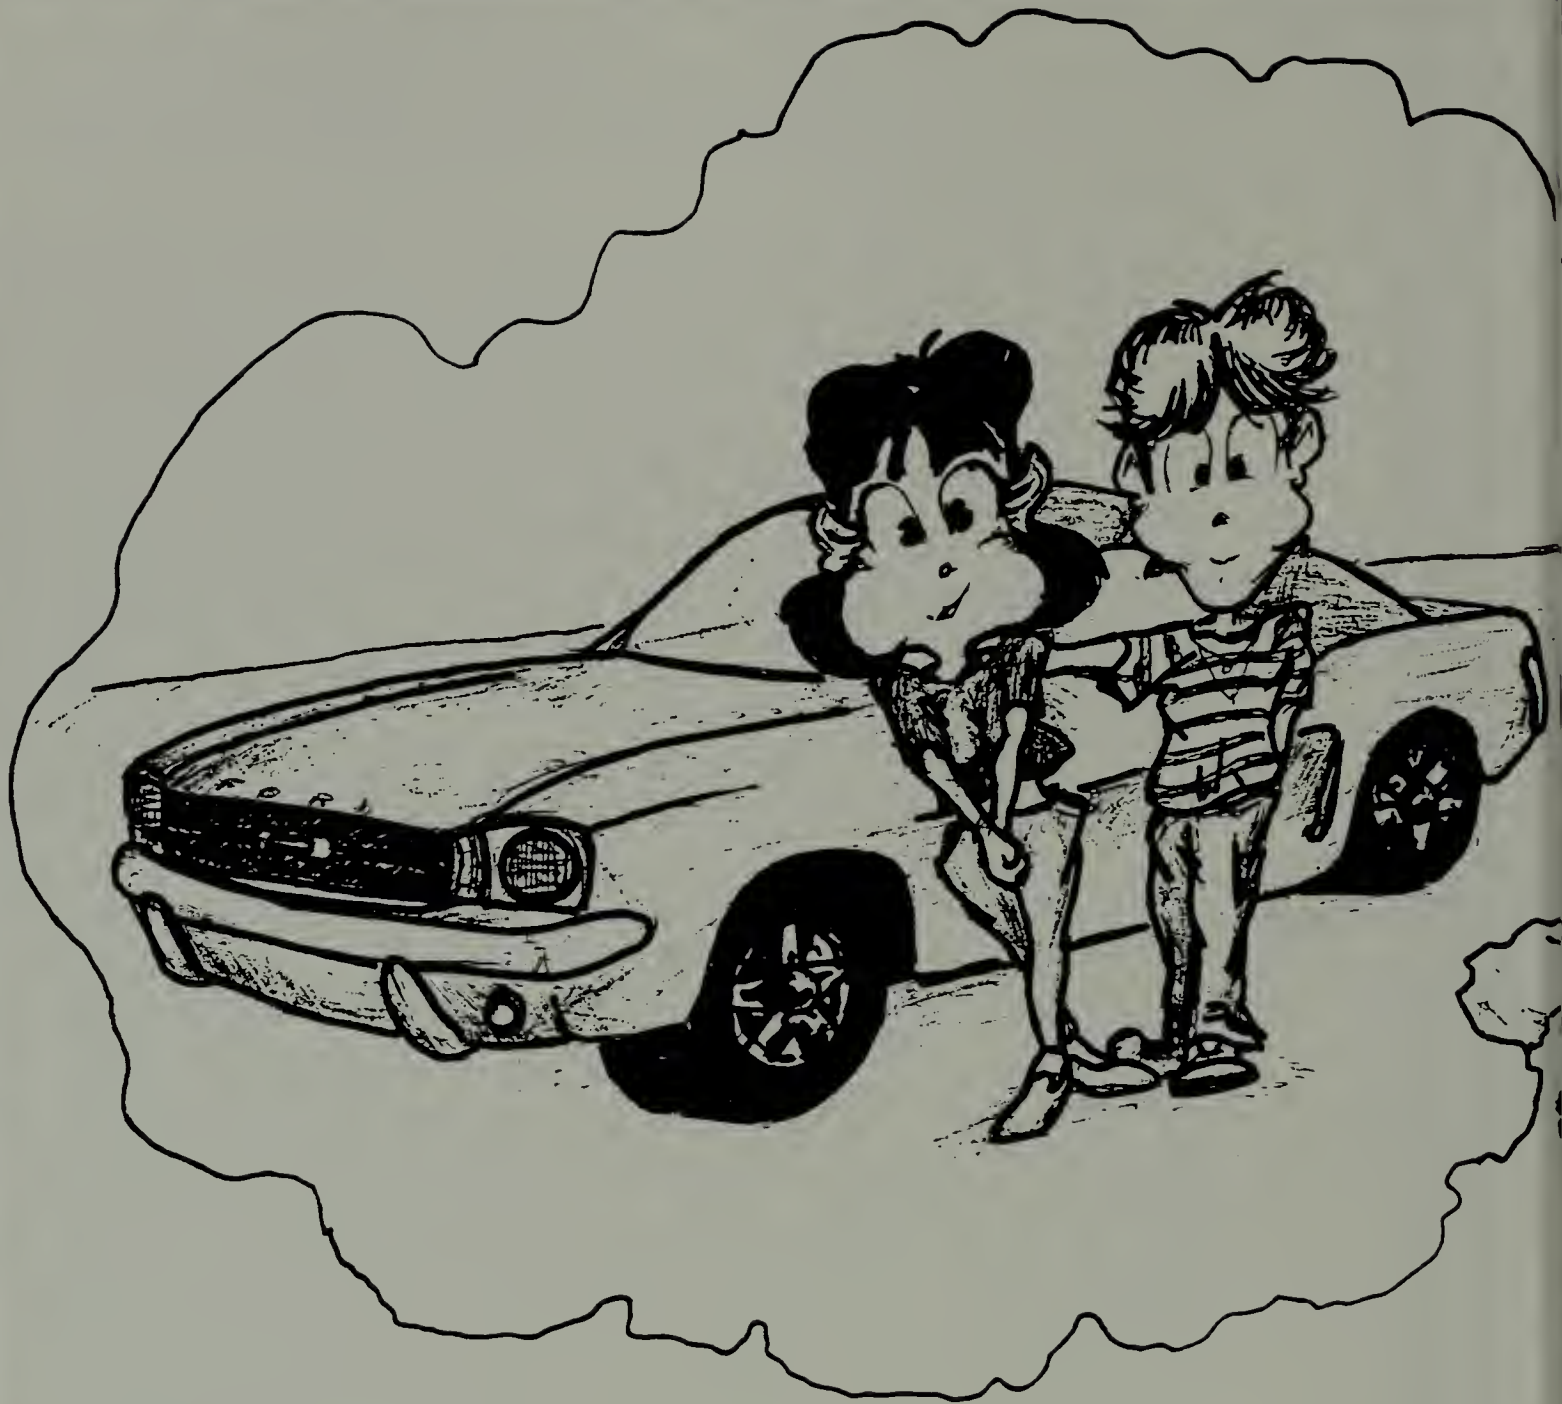

Eric Lefebvre, a.k.a. Rico, who was the shortstop for the New York Mets, is now banned from professional sports for the rest of his life for striking a spectator with a baseball bat. It has been said that Cory Coulsey teased and taunted Rico while he was up at bat, which caused him to strike out for the first time in seven years. The case went to the Supreme Court, where Lisa Oliva presided over the hearings. Coulsey is also banned from attending all sporting events ever again. Cory's friends, Andy Castro, John Coates, Mike Donahue, and Steve Durette agreed to personally attend every game and videotape the plays so that Cory won't feel left out.

T.J. Keighley has now fulfilled his life long dream of making Freedom Rock infomercials. His co-stars John Boyce and Rebecca Kerr can be seen jamming to the music of the 60's and 70's every Tuesday and Friday night at 11:30 p.m. eastern central time. Melissa Graham appeared as a special guest on one episode, where she tap danced to "Lola" by Eric Clapton.

Sean Hegarty, now 20 years older and wiser, has not yet to meet the speed limit. Soul mates forever, Christina Poletto and Megan Savage can still be found together 20 years after high school, dangling from nectarine trees, spinning in fields under starry nights, weaving miracles, singing the words of Tori, and searching for the other side of insanity.

So there you are Mr. C., a full run down on all K.P. '94er's. We've been doing pretty well, as you can see. Good luck to you and your family, as well as everybody else. You'll hear from us in another 20 years, but until then, adios . . .

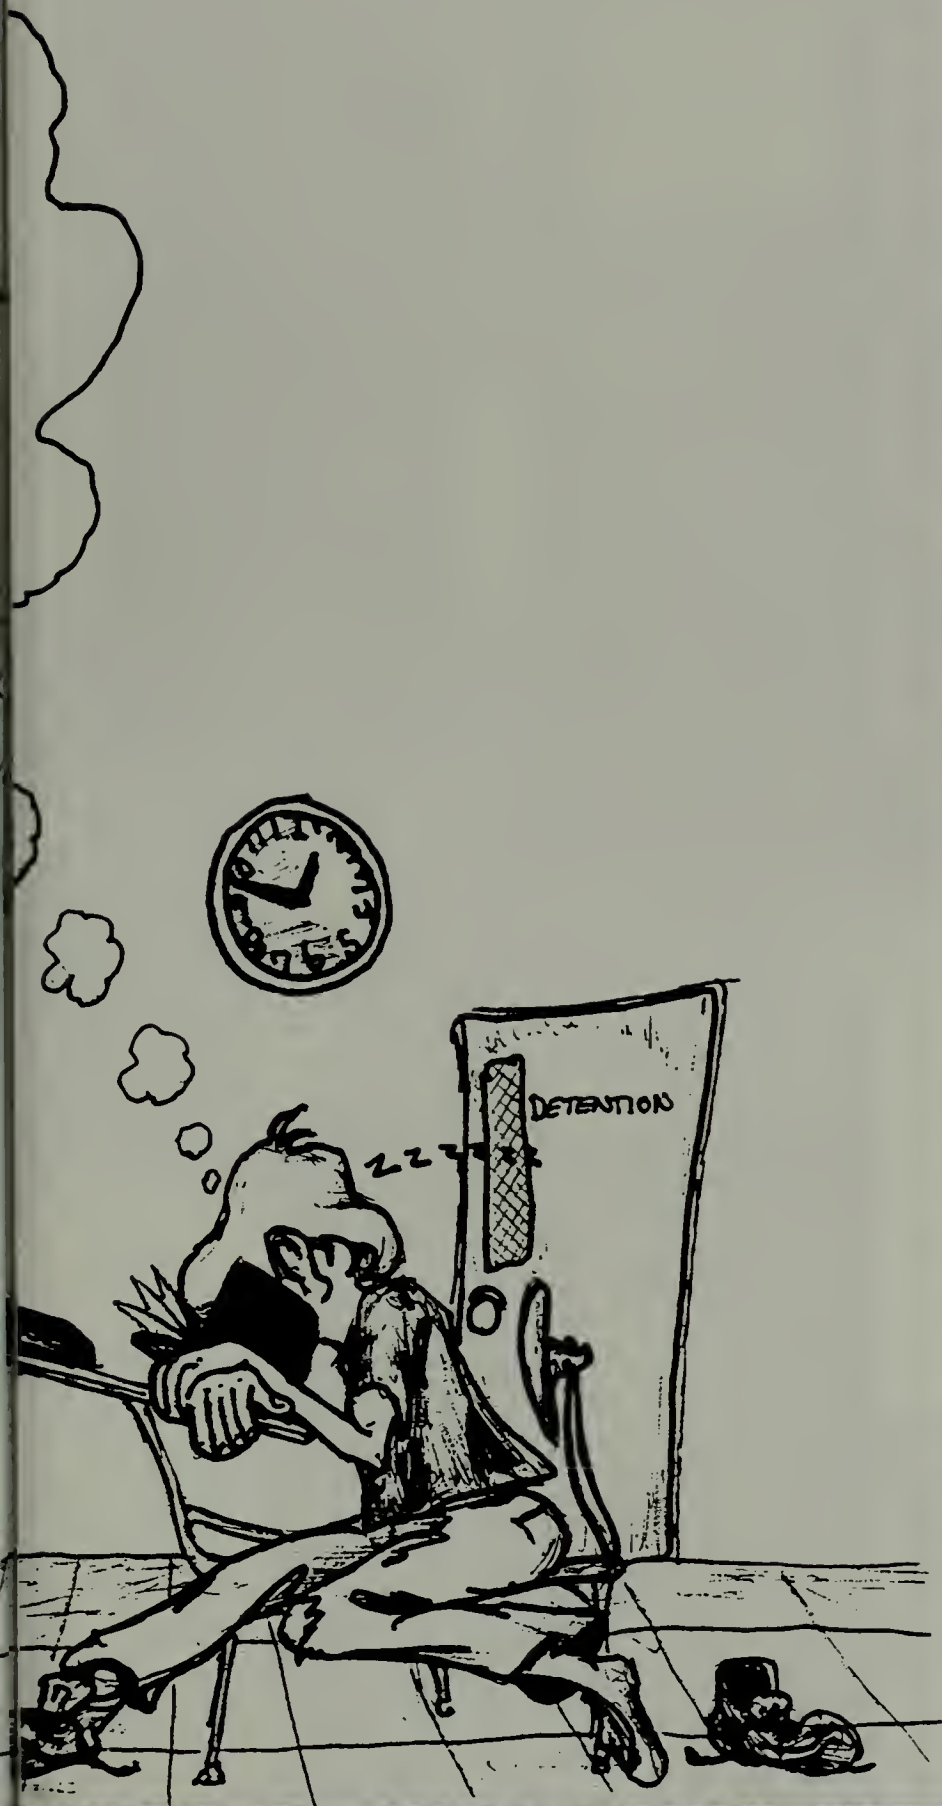

Truly,
Christina Poletto

The Little Boy and the Old Man — Said the little boy, "Sometimes I drop my spoon." Said the old man, "I do that too." The little boy whispered, "I wet my pants." "I do that too," laughed the little old man. Said the little boy, "I often cry." The old man nodded, "So do I." "But worst of all," said the boy, "It seems Grown-ups don't pay attention to me." And he felt the warmth of a wrinkled old hand. "I know what you mean," said the little old man"

The Child Next Door —
 "The Child next door has a wreath on her hat;
 Her afternoon frock sticks out like that,
 All soft and frilly;
 She doesn't believe in fairies at all (She told me over the garden wall) —
 She thinks they're silly.
 The child next door has a watch of her own;
 She has shiny hair and her name is Joan; (Mine's only Mary).
 But doesn't it seem very sad to you
 To think that she never her whole life through Has seen a fairy?"

Girls Night Out

To My Friend —
 "I stood one day at my wits end —
 Then you came in the door, my friend;
 And just your very presence brought
 A ray of light for which I'd sought.
 And
 as we sat and talked a while, My frown soon changed into a smile. New hope sprang forth, dispelling fear, The path ahead became more clear.
 You truly seemed to understand —
 Your spoken word;
 warm clasp of hand, Were what I needed that bleak day, And I think God you passed my way. Now unafraid, with courage strong, I face each day with joyous song, And if some day I see a friend,
 Who stands alone, at his wits end,
 I'll pray that I, to him will be, The caring friend you were to me."

Reflection —

"Each time I see the Upside-Down Man
Standing in the water,
I look at him and start to laugh,
Although I shouldn't oughtter.
For maybe in another world
Another time
Another town,
Maybe HE is right side up
And I am upside down."

 That ain't been there before."

"Regardless of whom I meet or what I do, or what I have become it is the friends I grew up with that I feel closest to, and that I have the most in common with.
Though we don't see each other often, when we do it is as though we were always together — so comfortable, so natural, so honest.
I guess old friends who know where we come from, who know our backgrounds, who know our families, have an understanding of us that no new friend can ever have."

Hug O' War —
 "I will not play at tug o' war.
 I'd rather play at hug o' war,
 Where everyone hugs

 Where everyone kisses,
 And everyone grins,
 And everyone cuddles,
 And everyone wins."

Magic Carpet —
 "You have a magic carpet
 That will whiz you through the air,
 To Spain or Maine or Africa
 If you just tell it where.
 So will you let it take you
 Where you've never been before,
 Or will you buy some drapes to match and use it
 On your Floor?"

How Many, How Much? —
 "How many slams in an old screen door?
 Depends on how loud you shut
 it.
 How many slices in a bread?
 Depends how thin you cut it.
 How much good inside a day?
 Depends how good you live 'em.
 How much love inside a friend?
 Depends how much you give 'em."

No Difference —
 "Small as a peanut, Big as a giant,
 We're all the same size
 When we turn off the light.
 Rich as a sultan, Poor as a mite,
 We're all worth the same
 When we turn off the light.
 Red, black or orange, Yellow or white,
 We all look the same
 When we turn off the light.
 So maybe the way
 To make everything right
 Is for God to just reach out
 And turn off the light!"

yap

did you ever know yap?
he was the best little dog that ever sat on a lap or barked at a frog

his eyes were so shiny,
his coat-a gleam,
he ate dainty bits
and once the cold cream

off the dresser bureau (that line is too long) it made him quite ill,
so endeth my song.

for yappy died
just two days ago and we oughtent to sing
at a funeral, you know.

The Power of You —
 "Never give up on your dreams, impossible as they may seem.
 When you feel your pursuit is through, always believe in the power of you.
 Even through the struggle and

The Search —

"I went to find the pot of gold That's waiting where the rainbow ends.

I searched and searched and searched and searched and searched and
searched,
and then — There it was, deep in the grass,
Under an old and twisty bough.
It's mine, it's mine, it's mine at last . . .

What do I search for now?"

Turtle —
 "Our turtle did not eat today, Just lies on his back in the strangest way
 And doesn't move. I tickled him
 And poked at him
 And dangled string in front of him,
 But he just lies there
 Stiff and cold
 And sort of staring straight ahead.

Somebody Has To — "Somebody has to go polish the
 stars,
 They're looking a little bit dull.
 Somebody has to go polish the
 stars,
 For the eagles and starlings and gulls
 Have all been complaining
 They're tarnished and worn,
 They say they want new ones we cannot afford.
 So please get your rags
 And your polishing jars.
 Somebody has to go polish the
 stars."

Boys' and Girls' State

Boys' and Girls' State is a program consisting of a small group of students from Wrentham, Norfolk, and Plainville. Each year students are nominated and voted on by each town's American Legion members. The chosen students attend a week-long seminar in June for academically notable students from all over Massachusetts. While there, they attend lectures and classes on politics and learn the purpose of all the branches of government. All the students gain a better understanding of our government and society.

Dr. P. Davis, Mads Schmidt

Superintendent's Award

The Superintendent's Award is awarded to a special senior displaying excellence in the academic field. The Massachusetts Association of School Superintendents determines the high standards of this award. This year it was awarded to Mads Schmidt.

Fran Grady, Linda Buckeley, Mr. Fairfield

HOBY

This Hugh O'Brien Youth Leadership program is a four day, three night seminar held for sophomore students across the country. The schools chosen to participate are asked to select one sophomore who could best represent the school. HOBY teaches leadership skills, problem solving, and cooperation among peers.

WKPH

WKPH, this vocal group of students help to make our morning announcements a little more exciting. They volunteer their time every morning to keep K.P. students informed. Announcements include meetings, sports events, extra-activities, and outstanding student achievements.

Mr. Fairfield, Sean Green, Leah McLean, Jayme Morris, John Berman, Lisa Coffey, Tina Debraie

SADD

SADD, students against drunk driving, is a very unique club. In SADD, the members promote sobriety and are against drunk driving. This year, SADD sponsored many fund raisers to get their message across while still having fun. Also, some SADD members attended a conference.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society is a group of students who excel in academics, leadership, and community service. This year's NHS cleaned up Joe's Rock, raised money for scholarships, visited senior citizens, and much more. The club's members exhibit outstanding character and act as role models for their peers.

DECA

The DECA program is designed to develop future leaders in marketing, retailing, and management. This program is available to juniors and seniors and helps in deciding future careers. The Junior Marketing Education students operate and manage our school store. They are also given the opportunity to work in the King Philip Branch of the Wrentham Co-Operative Bank. DECA prepares students for immediate employment or getting ahead in college.

Library/Media Aides

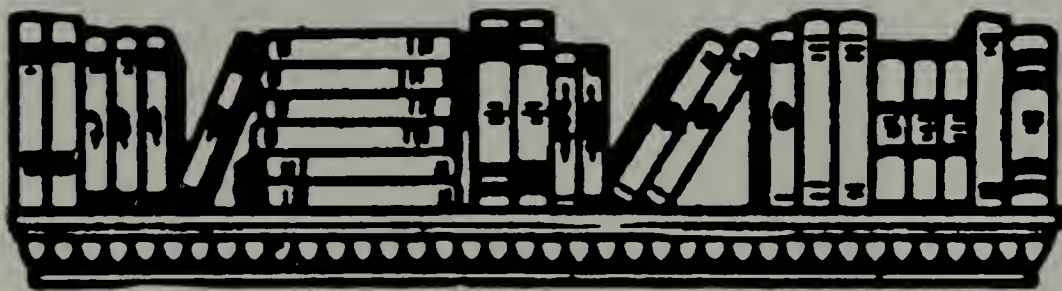

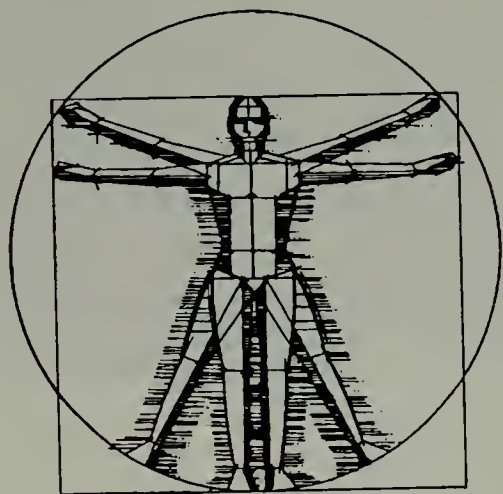

The Library/Media Aides is responsible group of students who volunteer every morning to distribute equipment. On their study periods, the aides prepare books for shelves and if they feel artistic, create media bulletin boards. The group helps to keep operation of our school organized and efficient.

SWIM CLUB

The swim club is designed for anyone who enjoys swimming. This year, some of the people participated in Lifeguard Training. Also the people participated in an unofficial meet and would like to participate in more next year.

Pre-Med

Pre-med club is designed to help give students interested in the medical fields insight on future careers. This club was started by Monica Ely and it allows the students to visit hospitals and explore the world of medicine.

WHAT EXACTLY IS

To accurately describe what being in the marching band is "like" would be like a quarterback describing the feeling of being struck by an angry, aggressive, opposing lineman, or a center flying through the air, catching a moment of glory before unmercifully thrusting the ball into the basket. You say, "Wow, that's cool", but do you really know the feeling? So, if I were to say to you, "Man, when we hit set #27, the wind collected beneath our feet and we sent shockwaves through the crowd", you would look at me and say, "Oh . . . well congratulations, anyway."

The truth is, the average person just sees the marching band at parades, football games, pep rallies, etc. If you're lucky, you may just see the marching band's performance at halftime. Granted, some bands perform cheesy, kiss-up songs like "Born to be wild" or "Beat it". How many of you have ever heard of Bela Bartok, the composer of this year's piece entitled "Dance Suite"? You're not alone, neither had I.

The construction of the performance begins in late May, yet truly begins to develop at Band Camp, a seven day grueling nightmare, filled with laughter, tears, sarcasm, pranks, and sun-poisoning. The typical band Camp day begins at 7:00 with piercing reveille played by the band's trumpets. Breakfast is at 8 for a ½ hour, and then on to the practice field at quarter of the hour. Practices last for approximately 3 hours and in between activities, lunch, dinner, and bad jokes, there are a total of three. Night-night at 11:00

Coming back to reality, a practice schedule is devised, which takes up roughly all our week, again 3 hours a day (4 on Saturdays). The competition season begins the first week in October where we travel to the likes of Oliver Ames, New Bedford, Dartmouth, etc. vying for the championship. Bus rides include singing, sarcasm, laughter, and other mediums of entertainment. All this preparation comes down to the first Sunday in November, finals [Trumpet fanfare que], where all the bands from all over New England assemble to fall to the mercy of King Philip. Boston University's Nickerson Field sets the stage where months of intense training break hearts and trigger tears of joy. For seniors, the last slide on the astroturf. For freshmen, an exciting footstool for the next three years. Finally, celebration at the Hong Kong and a winter holidays semi-formal to close out the season.

There really is no true way to describe the program other than to strap on an instrument and experience it yourself. For those who aren't musically inclined, simply gather up a group of friends, throw on a few sweatshirts, show your school colors, and get out there and scream at the top of your lungs. Without the marching band, who would lead the parade, who would provoke the crowd to scream "Go K.P.!!!", and who would fill up the display case in front of the office? So don't knock it, and don't be afraid to check it out. You might just enjoy it.

YEARBOOK: Chieftain

One of the hardest working clubs at King Philip is definitely the Yearbook. The people, who comprise this club, dedicate many hours each week to create a book, which tells of our times in high school. With the help of the advisor, Mr. Maraghy, the Chieftain is the culmination of a year of hard work, determination, and even a little fun. A huge "thank you" goes out to all who participated in the production of the 1994 Chieftain.

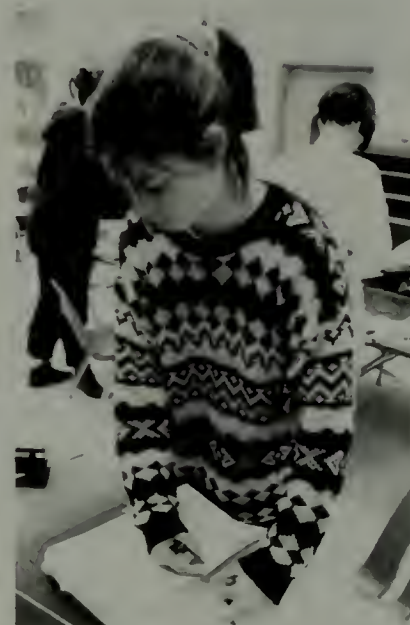

L to R, T to B: M. Finase, E. Paul, K. Maraghy, L. Cahill, J. Hallett, M. Carlow, J. Allen, H. Oliveri, V. Carroll, B. Rousseau, J. Shearer, T. Poletto, M. Shmidt, N. Copeland, L. Huneryager, V. Mrs. Roberta Negus

There is "Teacher's Prayer" that reads:

One day
I would like to teach just a few people,

WORST NIGHTMARE

- ☐ Smiling at somebody, not realizing that there's something gross caught in your teeth.
- ☐ Falling up the stairs in front of the whole cafeteria.
- ☐ Talking to somebody and accidentally spitting on them.
- ☐ Leaving the bathroom with toilet paper hanging from your waistband.
- ☐ Giving a presentation in front of the class and when it's over, finding you have a booger hanging out of your nose.
- ☐ Leaving the bathroom and three hours later discovering that you fly's unzipped.
- ☐ Greeting someone warmly, thinking that you know them, only to find they're a total stranger.

BEST EXCUSES ABOUT NOT DOING HOMEWORK

- ☐ I left it in my car and it spontaneously combusted in the heat of the sun.
- ☐ I left it in my jeans, and my mom sold it at her annual garage sale.
- ☐ I recycled it to do my part to save the Earth.
